A COURSE IN MIRACLES

*This is a required course.
Only the time you take it is voluntary.
Free will does not mean that you can establish the curriculum.
It means only that you can elect what you want to take at a given time.*

*This course does not aim at teaching the meaning of love... for that is beyond what can be taught.
It does aim, however, at removing the blocks to the awareness of love's presence, which is your natural inheritance.*

*The opposite of love is fear...
But what is all-encompassing can have no opposite.
Nothing real can be threatened.
Nothing unreal exists.
Herein lies the peace of God.*

The holiest of all the spots on earth is where an ancient hatred has become a present love. And They come quickly to the living temple, where a home for Them has been set up. Look. There is no place in Heaven holier. And They have come to dwell within the temple offered Them, to be Their resting place as well as yours. What hatred has released to love becomes the brightest light in Heaven's radiance. And all the lights in Heaven brighter grow, in gratitude for what has been restored. Around you angels hove lovingly, to keep away all darkened thoughts of sin, and keep the light where it has entered in. Your footprints lighten up the world, for where you walk forgiveness gladly goes with you. No one on earth but offers thanks to one who has restored his home, and sheltered him from bitter winter and the freezing cold. And shall the Lord of Heaven and His Son give less in gratitude for so much more?

Now is the temple of the living God rebuilt as host again to Him by Whom it was created. Where he dwells, His Son dwells with Him, never separate. And They give thanks that They are welcome made at last. Where stood a cross stands now the risen Christ, and ancient scars are healed within His sight. Listen. An ancient miracle has come to bless and to replace an ancient enmity that came to kill. In gentle gratitude do God the Father and the Son return to what is Theirs, and will forever be. Now is the Holy Spirit's purpose done. For They have come! For They have come at last!

What a joy that we are going to enter into a entire re-association of ourself in correspondence to the fundamental idea that through the application of the power of our individual mind, both in – you got me teaching almost immediately. I would remind you, this is the second hour to the performance of a converting agency of light in the idea that somewhere within the matrix of energy of separation, in the totality of the chaos of dark form that represents your association with each other, They have come, and I've been using the double helix – you might as well look at it – here is the idea of parallel universe, here is the idea of double helix, in the application of the fundamental idea that a replication of yourself within the helix has denied you the entirety of the inevitability within space/time that the immediacy of a correspondence of the light factor is available to you.

They call me the Master Teacher. We looked at examining us in association with the idea that we now broadcast in a new lens of light, for They have come from that reference down in to here, to offer you the solution. There is no question now that in this space/time frame you at least in some sort of sense are examining the possibility that what I'm offering you within your own light frame of mind, in a self idea of conceptual notation of what you are in the reflection of your determination to represent yourself as a body, that there is an immediacy of an alternative available to you within this light factor. For indeed They have come.

What we looked at together was the idea, in a very fundamental sense, that conceptually within our idea of ourselves, we are very much fundamentally aware that there has to be within our individual self a solution to the problem of self-identity, or the containment of ourself in a body that is doomed to recognize itself conceptually within this formulation of time, undergo an aging experience of getting old and dying within a body form, and disappearing into the matrix of the nothingness of the refracted idea that there is no fundamental source of reality contained within the containment of parallel universes. The simple reason for that is, in the fracturedism of space light, in its extension from a single idea of the totality of its containment, there is no recognition, because each particle-ization of the form of light energy, contained within the black hole principle, that is to say, a density in the universe a trillion times greater than the idea of the sparcity that's possible within the light formulation, still only gives reflections of the particle-ization of the thought that's contained within the idea that represents – we use the term 'darkness' or a dimness or a lack of power in the entirety of the idea of total containment – are you ready? – very simply because the idea of total containment of light is impossible.

What we deal with within the idea, and I'm going to teach the matrix for just a minute in the idea of correspondences – here let me have this – look at me. I'm going to teach you just for a moment the idea of quantum procedures, in the nature where you can represent yourself in your own mind as zero. And the notation of bit-entanglement will be the idea that it's possible for you to take a notation of zero or singularity of mind, and let it represent to you not nothing, but everything. The problem you have in the idea of quantum association is the necessity for you to formulate comparisons in regard to the possibility of location. Perhaps I can show you sometime, if you're really interested in looking with me at the inevitability of the transformation of your own mind, my certainty that a quantum moment is nothing but a true relationship between the idea of 'zero' (0) and the idea of 'one' (1). The problem that you obviously have, is in order to represent yourself in a correspondence of bits – what we call them – or q-bits, in the idea of a comparison of 0 and 1, will always be a division of one comparison with something else, with the impossibility within your mind of a fundamental admission that the zero that I am representing to you is actually nothing, because you will believe that the zero that I'm representing to you within the idea of the black hole contains space/time references, corresponding to the idea of the speed of light that justify the idea of a moment of zero, in which you loose yourself within your own containment. I'm offering you my certainty that the zero-ness of you, within the idea of entanglement of q-bit, will show you instantly that instead of being nothing, you will recognize your association of nothingness with the everything that you are. This is called 'turning yourself off again'. You keep coming around to an idea of yourself, you occupy yourself in a relationship of the idea of zero or God, which is obviously impossible, yet contained within the quantum idea can not not be the idea that instant communication in what appears to be objective in our separation with each other is possible. This is the entirety of the teaching of the New Testament. What it says in effect is, God is everything that there is. We cannot be either more or less than that. If we think we can be, even though we may occasionally entangle ourself with the idea of more or less, the less of us will be anti and the more of us will be positive. Neither one of which is true within the entirety of the formulation of the necessity for the conversion of the idea that what matters within space/time – ready? – has any meaning whatsoever.

Look with me at my whole mind for a second. What matters to you, in regard to what you think you are, within a helix of an idea of correspondence, contained within an infinite number of possibility, means absolutely nothing to me. Can you see this with me? So that our correspondence in a single idea of wholeness will be represented, not by our determination to remain within the zero, but the simple admission that the entirety of the truth and love that we are is available to us. And some of you, don't look to complicate the idea of quantum or the idea of q-bit or entanglement. It's as simple as a definition that the idea of a bit will always find correspondence of something between it, without the fundamental admission that it could represent zero. Listen. If it represented zero for a moment, the quantum recognition would be instantaneous. This is what entanglement is.

I'd like to take four minutes and read the idea of what I'm offering you in quantum. Will you listen with me? Will this be Sermon on the Mount? Sure. Will this be parallel universes? Sure. Will this be the idea that the whole damn thing is an illusion anyway? Sure. Will this be an admission that somewhere deep within you is the entirety of your own black hole in a correspondence that you have no intention of going into. Sure. Why? You're afraid of it. What would it be? It would be an instant conversion of the mass or totality of density containing the entire universe. Just three sentences, three little paragraphs about what quantum q-bit entanglement actually is.

An overview of Quantum

Information is not purely mathematical. Instead it always has a physical embodiment. In traditional information science the embodiment follows classical or non-quantum physics. The new fields of quantum information science put information in its quantum context. The basic resource of classical information is the bit, which is always either a 0 or a 1. Quantum information comes in quantum bits or q-bits, pronounced 'cubits'. Q-bits can exist in super-positions, which simultaneously involve 0 and 1, and groups of q-bits can be entangled which gives them a counter-intuitive correlation.

What an amazing idea, that you can have a quantum intuitive correspondence of the idea of the immediacy of the possibility – are you going to listen to me? – say to me: Instantaneous communication. Is it that simple? Yeah. How can you possibly define instantaneous communication? Shall I tell you how? It's an experience of wholeness that will give you joy. It's a momentary release of the defensiveness of your nature of yourself. It's the zero-ness of you, not found within the q-bit as representing a comparison of zero, but in the quantum idea that the zero finally is going to be everything that is. Where is this rejected within the idea of q-bit entanglement? I have no concern about it. The truth of the matter is, there is no such thing as entanglement. You can't entangle what everything already is, but you sure as hell can demonstrate your power within the billions of galaxies and stars out there, contain yourself in the limitation, which you express as yourself within your own mind, and you can sure as hell continue to dream a dream that you're trapped in in the sequentiality of this. Do you see this with me? Now the formulation that I can reason with you in the idea of a singular zero, which would be what everything is, can not not be a process of experience, because in a very fundamental sense what you're actually afraid of – and we might as well get to it; we're going to spend about twelve minutes in its entirety on the idea that you are having experiences of new miracle associations with yourself, in the very fundamental certainty that the universe is finally only thought, and that the entirety of the power of the universe is thought and while it can be extended from itself in its entirety of itself, in a fundamental sense what I am showing you is that God can not be located. What I am showing you is the simple truth of the matter that at any moment of space/time in its entirety – do you want to hear this with me? – everything is expanding from everything. Try it again. What I am offering you right now is my certainty of a converting nature of your own mind as what you term Master Teacher involved in my certainty that there is nothing out there. At any single moment in the formulation of our body form, I can show you who you are in your entirety, if you allow me to reflect back to you a continuing instantaneous alternative to the idea that you are trapped within the sequentiality of the possibility of location.

The entire teaching of my savior Jesus Christ, as a time traveler, when he came in the New Testament, the first thing he says to the associations of his so-called disciples is, "You're not from here. You're from Heaven, and no one has ascended up to Heaven except he that came down from Heaven, even the son of man who is already in Heaven." He goes on to point out in the particulars that all your formulations of people, all of the ideas of ancient history, all of your ideas of replications within the time idea, contained within the memories you have concerning your momentary loss within the idea of space/time, are totally meaningless. What does he say? "Your father has been a liar from the beginning." There's no possibility that an objective correspondence of the reflection of your own light can give you the truth. How much longer are you going to spend and dispense to the world the certainty of your definition of yourself, be it in any particulars? Are you going to listen to me? The only one who can answer that question is you. Are you going to listen to me now? The power of decision in the idea of alternatives, contained within the possibility of choice, can not not show you, as it showed you in this idea of the entirety of parallel universes, that if you're looking for something out in the world, eventually you're going to find it. Can you see this with me? So many of us find the ideas of body formulation in love and we finally gratify ourselves with the idea of our containment, and we're together over a period of years and we share the idea of love in the certainty that we're going to lose, and it will be necessary for us to lose, because in a very fundamental sense we have no source of reality. In a particular sense – this from my entire teaching – this world doesn't exist at all. All of your formulations about it, in the idea that They have come from out of time, are nothing but indications that you have become determined with your own mind that there must be another alternative, not contained within this fabric. They indeed have come, and They indeed at any moment in what appears to be an association of time, out there, can offer you the immediacy of an alternative of light contained within the idea of a reflection of light that at any single moment can cause you to merge with the idea of shared minds. There is a particular joy in the teaching of the idea of the adventure of the possibility of extra-galactic association that would let you see in a very fundamental sense, if there are billions of galaxies containing trillions of stars, each with a black hole of identity, when you convert in a quantum sense, you can have an instant communication with the guy right there, not in regard to separation, but in a fundamental sense exceeding the speed of light that instant communication is possible, very simply because there is no distance between the cause and the effect.

And this is contained in the whole idea of what I was going to read to you in regard to a very fundamental idea – let's do it again. Practice: I'm only meeting myself. Do you want to practice? Say to me: I don't like who I am. Well very obviously, if you don't like who YOU are, it's impossible you would like the guy out there. Now, you particulars of definition of yourself in 'Oprahism' – I don't mean to pick on her; she is very determined that separation can be shared until you die. All I'm saying is, you're always deciding whether you like him better or less in your own association with yourself. It's impossible you do not do that, because the judgmental idea you have about yourself cannot preclude an objective idea contained within conceptual ideas of who you think you are. So if I can get Oprah for a minute to teach nothing but the resurrection of Jesus, there would not be any problem. She has the tendency to teach Jesus as some sort of figure of the containment within her own separate mind so that everyone else can remain separate with Jesus. That doesn't make any sense. All Jesus says to you is that, "I am the truth, I am the way and the I am the light. And if you believe me, you will ascend with me in the correspondence of a reflection, first of the revision of ourself in the whole idea that inevitably will result in resurrection of our body form." Do you see that? A reconfiguration of the cells of our light body that perfectly healed us. Remember in that whole idea that you can actually undergo a transformation of your mind? Jesus had that experience, you have had that experience, only to find yourself back in another body form, struggling with the idea of projection. Momentarily you feel a lot better about yourself than you did. Why? You had a moment of union within in your own mind. Is this what you have been searching for? The only thing you could possibly be searching for is love. And finally the idea that you're going to have to love in its entirety, whether you like it or not, is the entire basis of my teaching. You will either love as God loves you entirely – are you listening? – or you'll be nothing. And if you're nothing, contained within the struggle of your nothingness will be all of the conflict and pain and loneliness and death that you maintain in your idea that you can replicate yourself in falsity, and it inevitably will give you the idea – are you going to listen to me finally? – that you intend to exercise your pitiful will of what you think you are, compared to the Mind of God that’s all around you. Practice in the prayer: Thy Will be done, not mine. I’m recognizing momentarily, I DIDN’T MAKE MYSELF, and I’ve decided not to keep on trying to DO myself – are you going to listen to me? – but allow myself, through the grace and love of God, to be UNDONE, to TURN OFF the idea that I’m contained within that genetic relationship.

What a happy time this is. We’re down to twenty-seven minutes. I’m going to leave you. We’re going to turn yourself off for about a minute and a half. How much time will have passed between the idea that I’m going to leave you now, and when we turn back on and come into our association? Are you going to listen to me? All the time that will ever be, because all of time is actually already over. Remember God goes with us wherever we go; God is the mind with which we are employing the application of the power of God. So we can say together, God bless us, each and everyone.

“For They Have Come”

The Voice For God Has Called And You Have Answered

WITH MASTER TEACHER

Are you going to let me come back for this other twenty-seven minutes? How much time passed? Are you listening to me? All of it. The joy that I'm experiencing right now in the correspondence of my mind representing myself as a teacher, is my certainty that if you will apply the idea of the possibility, say of finding peace and truth and harmony, that it will be within your own mind, but more certainly it's going to have to require initially your desire for the solution. Are you going to trust me with this? The idea of training your mind systematically to a new you and the availability of the instantaneous idea of eternal life can not not be in your perspective of yourself. And sometimes I feel, here I am, standing here as the Old Man in the excitement prospect that I've talked to you about double helixes, I've talked to you about the edges of physics, I've talked to you about parallel universes, when the simple condition that I'm offering each other are the inevitability that we WILL communicate with each other within this space/time frame – will you look at me? – and that it's immediately available to us, and that in fact there is no distance between the idea of the energy of light and the certainty that all of that energy is immediately available to us, and can be demonstrated to each other by the idea, in our text of A Course In Miracles, that indeed They have come. And I'm going to have go to just a momentary reference of offering you my certainty that all of time is actually going on right here and now. Remember about the 'causal loop'? I [?] your loop so shortened that when you begin to recognize yourself, you come back to a place and you feel the joy. Now, the closer it gets to the immediacy of despondency, that's inevitable within our formulation, the more determined you can be – this is caught by Jesus as, ‘a dark night of the soul’, it’s taught by human beings as, you’re going to have to come into a spot where everyone seems to abandon you, aren’t you? You’re going to have to come into a spot, where you have searched and you should joyously have found the solution, but sure as hell, somewhere out there in that causal loop is something that has not been converted within your own mind through conversion. What will happen? They will inevitably attack you in the garden of your Gethsemane. They can not not do it, and as much as you ask God for relief from the pain and death you’re feeling within your own mind, the responsibility for the assumption of the correspondence of conversion is in your mind – are you listening to me? – not in God’s, because God in the entirety of the universe is already seeing you as whole and perfect.

Is this a moment of intense fear? Sure. Have you had a lot of them? Yes. Are you having one right now, because of what I’m offering you in the solution? Are you going to employ a process of the release momentarily of the fear that you’re feeling, in the certainty that God is not causing your fear? That your fear is being caused by the idea of the containment in your life, measured in an infinite number of ways, each one designed to protect you within your own relationship with yourself? Look with me. Yet it is inevitable, within the idea of the longevity of space/time, that the immediacy of a moment of devastation, in its entirety, will not immediately become the entirety of Universal Mind. Let’s look together just for a few minutes about what you’re being offered in relationship of space/time, and in the idea of the immediacy of love that we’re sharing at this time. Look.

You’ve got a hindrance going on! And it seems large indeed because it’s a hindrance of a fundamental understanding of your perfection. Why? It doesn’t seem to you that miracles are all the same. Yet teaching that is what this course is for. And that it’s only purpose, that there’s a single you. And you can learn it in a lot of different ways. And all your learning about miracles is either a help or a hindrance. Are you going to listen? There are two teachers only, who point in different ways. And you will go along the way your chosen teacher leads. Why? There are but two directions you can take, while time remains and choice is meaningful. Listen. For never will another road be made except the way to Heaven. You but choose whether to go toward Heaven, or away to nothing. There is nothing else to choose.

So I’m going to offer you a choice. I’m going to offer you the choice of everything of your containment or the idea that you intend to replicate yourself, and I have the joy of being offering this to you by my certainty that in a very fundamental sense the choice is yours, but the choice that you want is empowered with the certainty that it comes from the universe. The choice that you make in regard to that little limitation of body form can only give you the result of the formulation of that body. So that little hindrance that you feel can be virtually immediately eliminated by a simple decision not to choose. By a simple decision that at that moment you may, through NOT DOING, see the entirety of the direction that you’re searching for, because if you remain within location everything that you seek to find in objectivity will be a denial of a space/time location available not out there, but in your own mind. That's what you've discovered with me, the entirety of this location. Listen.

Nothing is ever lost but time, which in the end is meaningless. For it is but a little hindrance to eternity, quite meaningless to the real Teacher of the world. Yet since you do believe in it, why should you waste it going nowhere, when it can be used to reach a goal as high as learning can achieve? Look. Think not the way to Heaven's gate is difficult at all. Why? Nothing you undertake with certain purpose and high resolution and happy confidence, holding your brother's hand and keeping step to Heaven's song, is difficult to do. But it is hard indeed to wander off, alone and miserable, down a road that leads to nothing and nowhere and that has absolutely no purpose.

Look with me!

God gave His Teacher to replace the one you made, not to conflict with it. And what He would replace has been replaced. Listen. Time lasted but an instant in your mind, with no effect upon eternity. And so is all time past, and everything exactly as it was before the time to nothingness was made. The tiny tick of time in which the first mistake was made, and all of them within that one mistake, held also the Correction for that one, and all of them that came within the first. And in that tiny instant time was gone, DONE, for that was all it ever was. Why? What God gave answer to is answered and is gone.

Listen to me, one more sentence.

To you, out there, human, who still believe you live in time and know not it is gone, the Holy Spirit still guides you through the infinitely small and senseless maze you still perceive in time, though it has long since gone. Look. You think you live in what is past. Each thing you look upon you saw but for an instant, long ago, before its unreality gave way to truth. Not one illusion still remains unanswered in your mind. Why? Uncertainty was brought to certainty so long ago that it is hard indeed to hold it within your heart, as though it were still there.

Yet in every reflection that you get in regard to your idea of separation is the idea of the longevity of yourself within space/time maintained. Can you see this? So we looked at the idea of the fundamental relativity of time. So much of the Old Man's teaching, through Jesus, is the simple certainty that all time is actually going on all the time. When you began to watch this video – and we're looking at it as the cycle of time – it will always appear to be gone. You always hold on to the idea that it's passed away. You take what appears to be gone, project it into the future within your own mind – listen with me – and live in a comparison of what is gone and what is also gone. Why do you do that? You're afraid of the here and now. Do you want to look at this with me? I can help you with this. There is nothing to be afraid of. The only thing you're afraid of in my appearance – and these are, those are now going out into the world – is the inevitability of a continuing conversion of your own mind, based in a very fundamental sense on a choice that you did not make. You imply the choice of an alternate determination, through the release of the undoing of your mind, you immediately experience it's certainty in the revelation that we can share in the illumination of our recognition of each other within body form.

It's a very high privilege for me in communication of minds for you to recognize that the entirety of my concern about the reflection of light that you're getting within your own body is actually the entirety of all the conflict contained within your idea of objection to the certainty that time is not sequential. In a very real fashion, if all time is going on all the time, it will always be over. The idea that time lasted but a moment in your mind and is already gone is fundamentally the idea that it's still lasting, not that it's gone. Can you see that? Time lasted but a moment in your mind with no effect on eternity. Yet if you believe it lasted at all, it will become lasting within your mind – and listen – and in order to prove that you're right about your body formulation, as that human right there, you will associate with other humans in the idea that refractions of light that correspond to the idea of longevity in time, can demonstrate the separation of body. Will you listen to me, just about three more minutes of this? Listen.

The Son whom God created is as free right now as God created him. He was reborn the instant that he chose to die instead of live. And will you not forgive him now, because he made an error in the past that God remembers not – listen to what we're teaching here. Now you are shifting back and forth between the past and present. Sometimes the past seems real, as if it WERE the present. Voices from the past are heard and then are doubted. You are like to one who still hallucinates, but lacks conviction in what he perceives. What is this? This is the borderland between the worlds, the bridge between the past and present. Here the shadow of the past remains, but still a present light is dimly recognized. Once it is seen, this light can never be forgotten. It must draw you from the past into the present, where you really are.

Look with me!

The shadow voices of all the humans within the matrix of body forms that appear to be about you do not change the laws of time nor of eternity. Why? They come from nothing. They come from what is past and gone, and hinder not the true existence of the here and now. Look with me. The real world is the second part of the hallucination time and death are real, and have existence that can be perceived. Why? This terrible illusion was denied in but the time it took for God to give His Answer to illusions for all time and every circumstance. And then were no more.

I have six minutes to teach you. I intend to do it. What you've accepted with me in a fundamental sense that all of us are only seeing illusions of our own mind. We're admitting – ok? – basically that are body formulation itself is changing each moment anyway, and we recognize an infinite number of reflections of ourself within light that are continually changing (laughing). Yet our need to hold on to them in the intensity of separate body identity is why we're here. The reading, and this is in our Course In Miracles that I'm offering you now, it's impossible somewhere within a matrix, somewhere within the idea of space/time, you do not have a single true reference of recognizing someone else in a moment of entirety of love. Now, listen with me, the moment you begin to recognize him in love, you will be recognizing yourself, and him along with you, because in a fundamental sense we have already admitted he is a reflection in your own mind. If you follow this procedure now, in through practice of the nature of conversion, you will begin to more and more enjoy moments where communication of love is available to you, even though the bodies appear to be separate. Now, you're like to one who still hallucinates. Just for a moment you say, "Boy, am I glad I found you. I'm going to depend on everything. What the hell's the matter with you? I thought I just depended on you?" Now you're going to disillusion me in our reference of ourself. You listen to me. Contained within that light form was a moment of love.

In a very real sense, since God is only love, if you let me release the defenses of the idea of separate bodies we will immediately begin to love each other. Now, if we love each other in the moment of entirety and continue to love in the moment of entirety, we can shorten the distance of the idea of a factoring of light that's going to stretch, as the Old Man says, or the scientists, for fourteen thousand million years. We will do it very simply by recognizing love. Why? Everything is always lost but love, and the idea that loss is in the past can show you the certainty that it's available to you here and now, and can in a very real sense shorten the distance in our recognition of each other. Look with me. We know each other very well. We HAVE found love together. We HAVE found a moment of the reflection of our true Self. Now, if we can keep just for that moment from trying to judge what the hell is going on in the miracle that happened in our body, we can be healed and whole and perfect. Your need to know how the miracle works, is what fundamentally is denying you to the totality of its working relationship with itself.

So here, I seemoohhhh, you and I have found the solution in our Who the hell are you? I have retained you separate from me in the idea, and have become a specialist in the notation of the reflection of myself that guarantees my continuation in the idea that I'm a body. Now, in the practice of conversion of conceptual mind into instances of the wholeness of you, as you were perfectly created, we are beginning to share what we call 'the singularity of our minds.' Listen carefully. While we appear to still be in fractured light form of separate association, there is nothing within the entirety of the idea of the single reality of mind that can prevent us instantly from sharing moments of the merger of the immediacy of ourself within the illusion. Remember what we just read? Now we're fluxing back and forth. Some time we see ourselves here..... oh oh! Another old memory crops up. We take it. We project it into the future and we protect ourself from this moment. Look with me just for one more moment at the idea of the immediacy of what you have discovered in our relationship. What will it be? The availability of the instant of turning yourself on and springing into Heaven. It's the fundamental idea that all of space/time is only lasting for a moment. Listen.

Each day, and every minute in each day, and every instant that each minute holds, you are but reliving the single instant when the time of terror took the place of love. And so you die each day to live again, until you cross the gap between the past and the present, which is not really a gap at all. Do you hear me? Such is each life; a seeming interval from birth to death and on to life again, a repetition of an instant gone by long ago that cannot be relived. And all of time is but the mad belief that what is over is still here and now.

Will you do this with me?

Forgive the past and let it go, for it IS gone. You stand no longer on the ground that lies between the worlds. You have gone on, and reached the world that lies at Heaven's gate. There is no hindrance to the will of God, nor any need that you repeat again a journey that was over long ago. Look gently on your brother, and behold the world in which perception of your hate has been transformed into a world of love.

So this is where we're going to find ourselves. Not in some other time, but in the certainty that within the ideas that we have about each other, within our individual mind, is the entirety of a conversion going on, beginning with self-recognition and then the very simple recognition that the self out there is you. You've been looking for someone, haven't you, to solve the problem? Good. You've searched in vain. Each time you thought you found the answer you were disillusioned again in the idea of objective association. You continued in a dream of death where you searched and searched, and couldn't find. The solution that you have decided on, at this time, from my mind to yours, is also within your dream. Yet there is no element of your dream that you have not now decided to continually re-associate in the story that you're selling or telling about yourself, and selling yourself in the idea that what is passed is over and gone, and that you can see the immediacy of our love for each other at this time.

Let's merge together in our recognition of each other now, should we? I want to thank you for letting me come into a perspective of the admission that They indeed have come, because our offering to each other, in our conversion within the idea of continuity of light formulation and love, is descending and offering continuing conversion that will shorten time for us to the moment when you have decided to leave this idea of time entirely, and I intend to share that with you, if you'll let me, within our dream of love that finds our certainty within ourself. All it took was just that moment and we'll be gone. All it took was just that glance and you'll be gone. Of that I will not speak, but I will continue to offer you my love in our recognition of our intent to bring about a continuing transformation to the inevitability that in truth we're already back in the universe and none of this can hold us any longer in the bondage.

Thank you for this course in the miracle of your whole mind of love, because God does go with us wherever we go, in the recognition of that love of our minds together, because the power of mind is the power of God. I'll be with you until this is over. I have no reason to leave here. The conversion has become so intense in the need to escape from the conflict of this world that each of you is now become determined to share it with someone else out there, and we can shorten time immeasurably, so we can say together, God bless us, each and everyone, and I WILL be with you until this is over, for They indeed have come.
