A COURSE IN MIRACLES

*This is a required course.
Only the time you take it is voluntary.
Free will does not mean that you can establish the curriculum.
It means only that you can elect what you want to take at a given time.*

*This course does not aim at teaching the meaning of love... for that is beyond what can be taught.
It does aim, however, at removing the blocks to the awareness of love's presence, which is your natural inheritance.*

*The opposite of love is fear...
But what is all-encompassing can have no opposite.
Nothing real can be threatened.
Nothing unreal exists.
Herein lies the peace of God.*

LIGHT IN THE DREAM

You who have spent your life in bringing truth to illusion, reality to fantasy, have walked the way of dreams. For you have gone from waking to sleeping, and on and on to yet deeper sleep. Each dream has led to other dreams, and every fantasy that seemed to bring a light into the darkness but made the darkness deeper. Why? Your goal was darkness, in which no ray of light could enter. And you sought a blackness so complete that you could hide from truth forever, in complete insanity. What you forgot was simply that God cannot destroy Himself. Look. The light is in you. Darkness can cover it, but cannot put it out.

As the light comes nearer you will rush to darkness, shrinking from the truth, sometimes retreating to the lesser forms of fear, and sometimes to stark terror. Listen. But you will advance, because your goal is the advance from fear to truth. The goal you accepted is the goal of knowledge, for which you signified your willingness. Fear seems to live in darkness, and when you are afraid you have stepped back. Let us then join quickly in an instant of light, and it will be enough to remind you that your goal is light. Why?

Truth has rushed to meet you since you called upon it. If you knew Who walks beside you on the way you have chosen, fear would be impossible. You do not know because the journey into darkness has been long and cruel, and you have gone deep into it. A little flicker of your eyelids, closed so long, has not yet been sufficient to give you confidence in yourself, so long despised. You go toward love still hating it, and terribly afraid of its judgment upon you. And you do not realize that you are not afraid of love, but only of what you have made of it. Listen. You are advancing to love's meaning, and away from all illusions in which you have surrounded it. When you retreat to the illusion your fear increases, for there is little doubt that what you think it means is fearful. Yet what is that to us who travel surely and very swift away from fear?

And what is that to us who travel very swiftly in a new extension of our light, in recognition of each other, away from the entirety of the idea of the fearful situation, in which we find ourselves, in regard to the illusionary nature of a correspondence of light body that represents ourselves as separate associations in corresponding fear, within the dream that we have constructed to assure ourselves that there will be no intrusion by the incredibly billion light that surrounds us, here and now.

I am glad you joined me this morning; this is a particular type of message from our Course in Miracles, through the saviorship of Jesus, the original recognition of the conversion of light form that's showing a real you that's all around you. It's the idea that the light has come and that you're still trapped, momentarily, in the dream of death that allows you to believe there's actually something happening within this perspective. Look with me. Let's share together, just momentarily, the idea that we are dreaming together, in a perspective of an illusion of light, going on in a particular frame of reference that doesn't allow us to see the utter simplicity of the idea that the reflections we receive from our body formulations, actually are simply duplications of ourselves in the idea of our dreaming. Are you with me with this? The idea that.. on these other, there were two videos done by the Old Man, and I am sure you're aware of both of them, the one that we concluded that is become a very bright spot in the Universe, is the very simple idea that there's another world that we can see, going on simultaneously with this one, that is to say, there's a possibility of an instant conversion that will show us, at a minimum, a better reflection of what we think we are in this correspondence.

I am speaking to you in the illusion of the simple idea of the reflection of light, where you believe that you are an inhabitant on a little correspondence of a galaxy of associations of light form, that thought they contain billions of galaxy, to you represent but a moment with the procedures of your mind, forced you into an inclusion of yourself, with the idea that the reflection that we're getting from each other could possibly correspond to the truth of you.

And now we're going to look together, and share just a moment of our certainty of the passing of the dream. Look with me. The admission that you have a procedure in your own conceptual idea of yourself as homo sapiens, as a human being, ok, shows us, with an evidence, that indeed you are associating with conceptual thoughts about yourself that share what we are certain is illusory, within the ideas that we have about yourself. And just as certainly we know that in the pertainment of our ideas about our self, within that light reflection, we believe them to be true.

They call me the Master Teacher, obviously through the recognition of the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who represents to us a single certainty of light, in the entirety of our correspondence as separate human beings, we have been directed by the energy of love to entertain a very fundamental idea that it's possible for us to reflect back to each other a better correspondence of what we think we are. Is this where our fear lies? Remember at the opening of this session in substitution for light, we looked together that everywhere you look, within this procedure, you appear to be getting reflections of your own light? In the dimness of the power of light, from the idea of a Universal power of Eternal Life, that's so "miniscunal", is there such a word as "miniscunal",

Miniscule, mini-scale, yes, there it is, the idea of the littleness of you that momentarily reflects back to you a containment of the entirety of the illusion, contained within a perspective of light association, a power of Universal Mind, that's so limited in it's perspective that obviously it has no meaning to you, though you strive to give it meaning, so you project from yourself ideas that you have about yourself.

I am glad you came into this perspective, because I am going to offer you, beginning virtually right now, the idea that if you'll entertain with me the idea of a better perspective of light, a continuing necessity for the conversion of the entirety of the illusion of the idea that we are separate, suddenly you're going to see me, that while I represent to you a dream within the enclosed interlude of dark light, there's absolutely nothing, within our perspective, that would prevent you from gaining better knowledge of yourself, in the reflection of you, should you choose to do so. The requirement for that would obviously be, remember the last video, where we spend a considerable length of time on the idea of Sermon on the Mount, the fundamental idea of the necessity to forgive the reflections of your own light idea about yourself, because they contain evidence of fear and terror and loneliness that constitute your separate dreams, within the illusion of the possibility that reality of Eternal Life would have anything whatsoever to do with this.

Thoughts are what light is, ideas of our thoughts are how we reflect back to each other correspondences from within the illusion. Let me read you now just a few opening lines on the idea of how we actually feel about light in correspondence with ideas. Listen.

ALL THINGS I THINK I SEE REFLECT IDEAS.

What I see reflects a process in my mind, which starts with my idea of what I want. From there, the mind makes up an image of the thing the mind desires, judges valuable, and therefore seeks to find. Are you listening to this?

These images are then projected outward, looked upon, esteemed as real and guarded as one's own. From insane wishes comes an insane world. From judgment comes a world condemned. And from forgiving thoughts a gentle world comes forth, with mercy for the holy son of God, to offer him a kindly home where he can rest a while before he journeys on, and help his brothers walk ahead with him, and find the way to Heaven and to God.

(Dear) Our Father, Your ideas reflect the truth, and mine apart from Yours but make up dreams. Let me behold what only Yours reflect, for Yours and Yours alone establish truth.

We're dealing with the particulars of the idea that you're going to accept somewhere within the catechism of the idea that you can train your mind in a systematic way to a new view, of the fracturdism of light that is held you in the illusion that it's possible for you not to be whole, perfect and eternal in everything that ever is and always will be. We looked at it, remember the last video, I had virtually every idea that I could present to you, in regard, first, remember the idea of the parallel Universes, where we became certain that of the billions of associations of separation out there, that it was inevitable that somewhere, within all of space/time, you would meet, what, a true reflection of yourself? Remember that? It's in this pertainment of the idea that corresponding to you, if you'll let it, within the illusion of the dream, can be a better perspective of how you feel about yourself.

Many of us now, and this is what I am offering you from the certainty of my own mind, it's called a Course in Miracles, have come to the point in our own illusion, we are actually viewing, with a perspective of alteration of energy, the possibility that we can combine, in illusionary associations of separation, that have brought us around into a continuing idea of annihilation of light form, based on nothing, that it's possible for us, and the manner that we're going to use now is a better reflection of our love for each other, to view, in that instant, our shared love of who we really are. Are you with me with this? This was the parallel Universe story, wasn't it? What it said very simply, was it's impossible that somewhere, out in the Universe, you're not going to meet, who, yourself. Do you want to practice that with me, just a minute? The perspective, contained within the illusion of the correspondence you're finding within this dream, based on the opening session here, where we said we are in mutual dreams of separation, has suddenly allowed you, within your own particular perspective of self, to begin to examine your relationship, first with what appears to be out there, then within an increased correspondences of light that a true reflection of you, within all of the Universe, is possible, but in order to see that perspective, there must be a fundamental admission, within your relationship with yourself, as you appear in body form, that a new image of correspondence is possible here, very simply because the perspective of yourself, within the multiple idea of parallel Universes, at any moment, can become entangled with ideas that we have about ourselves. This is the fundamental bases of the passing of the dream, in which I am going to attempt now, for about eight more minutes, to show you the immediacy of the possibility of a direct instant illusion of light form, that's going to give you a great deal of happiness, there it did. Were you there? Are you here? Can you share that light there? Sure. Is this my assignment? Yes. Is my assignment to show you a better perspective of yourself, within the relationship of the idea that we're dreaming? Why else would I be here?

Shall we look together at it? Will you share this with me? This will be a prayer. We are going to pray together, just for a moment, about the idea that we can share love and forgiveness, with the inevitability that it's going to be true. In all prayer formulations we don't have to be certain about the result we're going to get, but we do have to become somewhere certain that what we're praying for we are getting, so that the necessity to recognize our self in the entirety of the reflection of light form, would be nothing but our determination to no longer suffer the conflict of the prayer that we exercise, within our own dream, to keep ourselves in a prayerful association of isolation that does not allow us to see, within the parallel Universe ideas that all around us, subjected to the same idea of the fear, within the illusion of the dreams, are isolations of separation, are you going to listen, that have no communication whatsoever.

What are we realizing fundamentally about this in the passing of the dream? Our certainty that the isolation of our self cannot not somewhere, within the entirety of the idea of Universal Mind, not contain the power of the Universe, which you now intend to share with me, in the idea of a single solution, available to us, at this instant, in a sudden reflection of light. There it was. In the prospect of the idea of healing the sickful body that represents how you feel about yourself, is nothing but my determination, as what you term a so called advanced teacher in the reflection of light, being transformed, instantly, into ideas of our entirety, can be performed at any instant, as we share together the nature of a single reality, not in correspondence with isolation, but in a fundamental acceptance that the Self that I am representing to you, is the Self of you.

In the video, remember, For They Have Come, is nothing but the idea that They, They, is us. There we did it. That's all right. See; was that a better reflection for you? I hope so, because for the next, about seven minutes, we're going to try to share the idea of the reflection of light, in the passing of a dream. Let's look at it together.

You may be surprised to hear how very different is reality from what you see. You do not realize the magnitude of that one error. It was so vast and so completely incredible that from it a world of total unreality had to emerge. What else could come of it? Its fragmented aspects are fearful enough, as you begin to look at them. But nothing you have seen begins to show you the enormity of the original error, which seemed to cast you out of Heaven, to shatter knowledge into meaningless bits of disunited perceptions, and to force you to make further substitutions.

I want to talk to you just for a moment, in the few minutes that are left here, about the idea of the illusionary fracturement of the idea of separate containment of observations of yourself, within matter formulation, that is to say the idea in a structure of light, is a duplicity of dark matter that replicates itself in continuing alterations, concerning the images of light that it gets back to itself. Now, once that is formulated in a location of the idea of separation, everything you see in the fractured man of the ideal of your body, is nothing at all, look with me, but a replication of the fracturedness.

Boy, I'd love to; we only got a couple of minutes left. What I am going to do, I am going to take a little break, we got about two minutes to the first break in this half hour, ok. What I am going to do in that two minutes, is attempt to shorten the idea of all of the fracturedism of your light that you have extended, I order to maintain the idea of the length of time in which the Universe has existed. We understand that's approximately fourteen thousand million years, within the perspective of attempting to join together in the idea of light form, in a containment of what cannot be joined. Yet here you are, as a dreamer of the illusion, where you appear, trust me with this, to be successful at reflecting back to yourself an apparent image of duality that holds you together in the perspective of what we used to call DNA, the idea of variations of illusion that continue to fracture themselves in every idea you have concerning your body, listen, yet it's impossible within that frame is not

EPISODE 1

WITH MASTER TEACHER

I am back, with the idea that the time that lapsed, in the conversion of the idea of your body formulation, within the illusion, in the restriction imposed upon your self, in the very limited magnitude you employ, in order to keep yourself in dimness of self, all right, can at any moment, and will at any moment, suddenly, express a correction of the idea of the duplicity of the association of light form.

I am going to be using, with your permission, National Geographic, as strange as it may seem, the idea that we are, I'll hold it up for you, galaxy hunters, the idea that I am going to attempt to show you, within the reflection of galactic association, the original manner in which the procedure from dark matter, prior to the emergence of the Universe, happened, so that you may want to stay with me as we look at the perspective of the idea that it's possible for us to see that the imagery that we find to be as vast as that Universe, with billions of stars, is nothing at all but a momentary reflection of how we're seeing ourselves, in our own limitation. This is expressed in the idea of reflected light, it's basically the idea that finally the only thing you can see in other galactic association, be it at a hundred an eighty six thousand miles a second, will only finally be a reflection of yourself, because there is nothing but a reflection of yourself, in the idea of Universal light that cannot not result in a single recognition of yourself at the time of, what we call within this perspective, the Big Bang, or the idea that you're going to extend out for another, what did we say, fourteen thousand million years, or perhaps in a perspective of the association of time, you might say that you're going to extend for one second, with the fundamental admission that a nano-second was a billionth of a second. If that perspective is proper, within your own mind, and I assure it can be with a perspective of light, based solely on your own association with yourself, not with somebody else's reflection, you can see that in fact the Universe itself did only last for one second, even though it appeared to take a billion nano-seconds. See how that correspondence works? How long is it going to last? It's obviously going to last as long as it fractured to a moment of a totality of a combination of light, you're going to listen to me now, I am going to read you a little bit from chapter eighteen, it can't occur out there, the reflection you're getting back about yourself, this is very well described in this galaxies, cannot not possibly have anything to do with the true reflection of light, very simply, because the true reflection of light would have to originate from a single source of light, be it even separate in particulars of itself that would continue the idea of the fracturedism of light and fact(?) within a circular Universe, using gravity, you'll always end back precisely, in an idea about who you are, within your own correspondence, even though you're still getting a reflection of your own light, within the Universal Mind.

The passing of the dream, would you like to hear about how that is organized, within your own idea of dreaming an illusion of the reflection of yourself? Listen.

But nothing you have seen begins to show you the enormity of the original error (of Universal Mind), which seemed to cast you out of Heaven, to shatter knowledge into meaningless bits of disunited perceptions, and to force you to make further substitutions.

Here it is; this is virtually a quote from one of our science magazines.

That was the first projection of error outward. The world arose to hide it, and became the screen on which it was projected and drawn between you and the truth. Why? The truth extends inward, where the idea of loss is meaningless and only increase is conceivable. Do you really think it strange that a world in which everything is backwards and upside down arose from this projection of error? (How could it not) It was inevitable. For truth brought to this could only remain within in quiet, and take no part in all the mad projection by which this world was made. Look with me. Call it not sin but madness, for such it was and so it still remains. Invest it not with guilt, (of objective association with yourself) for guilt implies it was accomplished in reality. Ok? And above all, (don't be afraid of anything within your own association of your self) be not afraid of it.

Is that all right with you? You want to practice with me the idea you're getting a projection of your own light? Do I know this is occurring with you? Sure. Do you know it's occurring? Certainly. All of the mere image of your idea of light, let's use the word matrix here, the idea that there are multiple map lexis of energy association, each one of them representing an aggregation of light that obviously, since they disappear each moment at the speed of light, could not not possibly be a reflection of other than is what is out there.

The simple truth of the matter, and I can show you this if you want me to, the manner in which you keep from seeing the entirety of the perspective that I am offering you in a healing process of our minds, is nothing but your determination of a backward association of yourself that you gain, in order to become an idea of a reflection of light, of which part of you is gone and part of you is not yet there. I hope I can make this clear to you. Obviously if you begin to walk toward me, I am getting a reflection of you, within the perspective of the matrix, when you walk away from me, if I turn around, I am obviously getting a reflection of you having already gone. If you'll look at the absurdity that finally it's impossible you're not looking at you own behind side. Can you see this with me? If the reflection of light is true, everybody that you're seeing, you're actually seeing him from behind, and because you can see him from behind, you reflect, within the idea of the Universe, at the speed of light, a reflection of galactic association, where in effect there is actually no asso.....galaxies with each other, because each one of them, and I assure you, and now I am going to read you from this science magazine, there are billions of them, each one of them represents your own association with yourself, there are also billions of stars, within the aggregation of separation where you maintain the idea of that black hole, the idea of containment. Listen, in galaxies the reflection you're getting is always already over, yet you protect it within the greater cycle of the idea of the entirety of the expansion of the Universe, very simply because you, individually, are fearful of the idea of the loss of the unity you express in location, which is actually a dis-unity in the correspondence of who you think you are.

Let's go to a little practicality her, just for a moment; because I see some of you are confused by the idea that somehow you're going to apply something other than what you are, within your own mind, you're not going to have to do that. My concern about you is that identity as a body cannot not be the entirety of your concern about yourself, and since the reality of you, through God, through Eternal Reality, can only in truth be a moment of a reflection of you, the idea that God, come on now, this is your whole idea of prayer, the idea that God, the light, the fracturedism of light is surrounding you each moment, takes on a new power for you, in our correspondence we call that the whole, or Holy Spirit, of light energy that at any moment, in your determination to lay down the defenses of your correspondence of yourself, cannot not show you, what, say to me, "A better reflection of my neighbor." Listen, Thou shall love the Lord they God, with all of your heart, energy of love, with all of your mind, with all of your soul, which is a correspondence of the idea of your entirety, and momentarily, your neighbor, your brother, as yourself, in order that you can get a single true reflection of who you really are in that correspondence.

Thank you for that. I am going to read you just one little paragraph from the National Geographic, about the discovery of galaxies, and how they originated, I think that will give you a perspective, in regard to light itself. The avenues that you employ in light, in the pitiful limitation you occurs on your self, remember the old story about an eighty eight note piano, with frequencies of light on the notes, where you represent one single little energy note of the idea of the illusion of light form, in the fabrics of light, and that there is in fact a power of light that's a trillion times more powerful than you. Perhaps that can give you a better perspective, in regard, say to me, "I am dreaming." Perhaps that will give you a little better perspective that I am intruding on your dream, by your own representation of a need for a brighter, more true, more happy, more joyess solution to the dream that has trapped you in a correspondence of what inevitably becomes a nightmare, and includes all the things that appear to be going on out there. Yet you listen with me. Each time you change your mind, it changes out there. And since it's always changing out there anyway, why not employ the simple idea of the possibility we express, in a moment of joy and happiness, in a union of our correspondence. Fundamentally it all began in total darkness, ok, I am going to read you just a little bit about this energy. Listen.

Let's tune in, the hiss of TV static denons remnant radiation that still lingers from the Big Bang, fourteen and a half billion years ago. Some a hundred million years after that explosion dawned on the Universe a micro galaxy was born, with colors keyed to density levels that we use in a computers to simulate the idea of micro galaxies. Deep into this turbulent cloud of hydrogen and helium a dense core formed, under the pull of gravity it will collapse to become a fiery Sun.

You want to look at what that actually is? Was the birth of you, the idea of a core, what we term, in the idea of a relationship with a human???, called a zygote, is that what it would be, the formulation of a single cellular association of yourself that intends to emerge into an idea of a full re-association of reflected light that finally will be used in its entirety, in the idea of the containment of you. Let's read just a little more about this formulation of galaxies.

So here it is; Imagine a Universe with no stars no galaxies and no light, just a black brew off fermortal gases immersed in a sea of invisible matter, beginning a few hundred thousand years after the blinding flash of the Big Bang, the Universe plunged into a darkness that lasted almost a half a thousand million years. Then something happened that changed it all, something that led to the creation, not just its stars and galaxies, but also, what, planets, people, begonias, lizards. What could that something have been? New clues to this puzzle, on of the most fundamental in cosmology, are poring in from many direction. Ok? The rising up, the using of super conductor simulations have retraced the step that produced the first stars and galaxies and are going to lead us back to the certainty that the occurrence is actually happening right here and now, within the formulation.

Can you see that? Will you share something with me, in the idea of the illusion? The Universe is thought. Practice with me; say to me, "I am thinking about this, right now." I see you are. See that? Now what did you try to do in the reflection of your light? For a moment you tried to retain it, within the idea of the emergent from the darkness into the light, without the fundamental realization that it would be impossible for anything to be totally dark for more than just the instant that it took for it to be totally light.

This is called the evolutionary process of man, it's the inevitable conclusion that he has reached within his own mind, be it fourteen thousand billion years, two thousand years since the resurrection of Jesus, five thousand years since the lias(?) or whoever predicted the entirety within your own mind, the simple certainty, look with me now, that its impossible, not contained within you, is the entirety of the solution, and that I intend, now, for the next sixteen minutes, ok, within the frame of time, to change the manner in which you are dreaming yourself, within your own dream. Listen. I am going to read you real quickly you're idea that you're using conceptions to dream about yourself, within your own emotions. Can I do that with that? This will identify yourself as the certainty that you're determined to cause your own dream. Listen.

Dreams are perceptual temper tantrums, in which you literally scream, "I want it thus!" (I want it thus) And thus it seems to be. And yet the dream cannot escape its origin. Anger and fear pervade it, and in an instant the illusion of satisfaction is invaded by the illusion of terror. For the dream of your ability to control reality by substituting a world that you prefer is terrifying. Your attempts to blot out reality are very fearful, but this you are not willing to accept. And so you substitute the fantasy that reality is fearful, not what you would do to it. And thus is guilt (or objection of yourself) made real.

Now you listen to me. I am going to conform ideas of how determined you are to remain within your own dream, because if you're determined to remain within your own body form of a correspondence of light association, within the idea of cause and effect, within the idea of speed of light, so will it be with you, within your own dream. Look.

Dreams show you that you have the power to make a world as you would have it be, and that because you want it you see it. And while you see it you do not doubt that it is real. Yet here is a world, clearly within your mind, that seems to be outside. You do not respond to it as though you made it, nor do you realize that the emotions the dream produces must come from you. It is the figures in the dream and what they do that seem to make the dream. You do not realize that you are making them act out for you, for if you did the guilt would not be theirs, and the illusion of satisfaction would be gone. In dreams these features are not obscure. You seem to waken, and the dream is gone. Yet what you fail to recognize is that what caused the dream has not gone (it's just another dream) with it. Your wish to make another world that is not real remains with you. And what you seem to waken to is but another form of this same world you see in dreams. You're going to hear this with me? All your time is spent in dreaming. Your sleeping and your waking dreams have different forms, and that is all. Their content is, what, the same. They are your protest against reality, and your fixed and insane idea that you can change it. In your waking dreams, the insane idea that you can change it is gone.

The special relationship is your determination to keep your hold on unreality, and to prevent yourself from waking. And while you see more value in sleeping than in waking, (that's how it is going to be with you) you will not let go of it.

So we're at a formulation of the idea that we are performing acts, within our own illusion of the ideas of dreams that are undergoing continuing alterations in the idea of how we feel about ourselves. Can you see this? Now, you are very much aware of this, within the perspective of your own mind, we call it paranoid. You're very much aware, somewhere within your own mind that there is all sorts of other figures dreaming something outside of you, yet in your determination to keep yourself separate from them, you construct within your own dream, you're going to hear this with me, I can teach this in materialism if you want, the idea that their dream is separate from yours and perhaps, at any single moment, would be an advantage in the idea of seeking and finding correspondence, within your own illusion.

The passing of this dream, that's going to occur in this first fifty seven minutes, is nothing but your new determination to find the solution, within your own mind and within your own heart that will allow you to, momentarily, release the conflict of light energy that is forced you into the idea that you are an illusion of a dream that you call a body, and all of your bodies of separate association are also contained within the illusion. Now listen with me, if that is true it remains impossible that somewhere, within the frequency of light correspondent there can be momentary re-association of ourselves, in what we term another world, ah, another world, going on simultaneous with this one. This is how the act of the healing that you have recognized in this first hour was performed, the new dream that you have found, within the idea of separation of your own dream episode, will give you a great deal of happiness, and since it's all only a memory within your own dream, anyway, you will and cannot not begin to have happy dreams, very simply because you have discovered, within your own self the capacity to be happy about your own association with yourself, since very simply there's nothing out there that could ever make you happy, that's true in a literal sense.

If you're going to get back a reflection of yourself of an image of yourself, how could you ever be happy? So the illusion of your dream is finding this new bright correspondence, and I, now, as a figure of this body form, are actually in your dream and we are beginning to share solutions, not based on the entirety of light, but a re-vision of our self, within the illusion of our dream, so we can, let's say, say to me, "Dream out together." Let's dream out of here together.

Thank you for listening to the idea that we came here together in a dream. With your permission, I am going to come back, I'll do another fifty seven minutes, and we'll begin to combine the idea that all of the Universes are only refractions of the idea of the single truth that you are. Because God goes with us wherever we go, being a reflection of the entire nature of the love that we're sharing. Let's say it together, "God bless us, everyone," and I just saw that new perspective of you, within that light dream. Stay with us.
